

WE WILL CELEBRATE.

A CROWD OF TEN THOUSAND WILL SHOUT THE VICTORY.

The Line of March and Who Will Take Part—Everything is Ready, and It Will be a Grand Occasion.

To-night.
The grand parade.
Are you prepared?
Take your place in line.
We'll rejoice over our victory.
Illuminate your house and review the procession.

Everybody to-day will be watching the clouds with anxious eyes. What of the weather? was frequently asked. The Times last evening, Cleveland never gets left, and we will have Cleveland weather tonight. A special telegram to the Times from the Observatory of the Weather bureau, at Washington, last night at midnight predicts fair, cooler weather for Virginia to-day, with warmer weather to-morrow.

The arrangements are all made, and the demonstration will surpass all previous celebrations ever undertaken in Virginia.
The enthusiasm is unbounded, the whole city is worked up to fever heat, and every man, woman and child that can get out will see the parade.

The strangers coming to town this week have caught the contagion and stayed to see the parade. Although nearly every city in the State has a demonstration at the same time, we will have many visitors.

There will be ten divisions in the parade, and every division will be headed by a band. The mounted men will number a thousand, and a number of handsome boys will swell the line.

Chairman Patterson received a telegram yesterday from E. M. Braxton, of Newport News, announcing that he would be here with 150 men, and asked if they must bring torches. The chairman replied in the affirmative.

The Ashland Democratic Club expects to come to the city to take part in the demonstration.

The following bodies will be informed as described:

Real estate men, white helmets and white sashes.

Richmond Locomotive Workers: Roller-makers, red, white and blue helmets; foundry men, black helmets; machine shops and foundry, light blue helmets; carpenters, blue helmets; workmen on the Texas warship, white helmets. The marshals mounted will wear red, white and blue sashes. This establishment expects to have 800 costumed men in line.
They will have a number of transparencies with pictures of Cleveland on one side and Stevenson on the other. The Locomotive Workers will also have the two largest pictures of this President-elect and Vice-President-elect that will be in line, being 75 feet.

Insurance men: Red capes and torches and roosters on hats.

Bankers: White capes and torches, roosters on caps.

Jackson Ward Club: Red capes, torches and roosters.

Clay Ward Actives: Roosters in hats, torches.

Howitzers: Red helmet, with swinging lamps and red sashes. They will have charge of the fireworks.

Old Dominion Club: Red helmets and cap.

T. C. Williams Factory: White capes with helmets and feather roosters.

The Dispatch: Blue capes, striped hats and torches.

The Richmond College Club will wear sashes of garnet and green, the College colors, roosters in hats and torches.
There will be 150 students in line.

State officials and clerks at the Capitol and other employees of the State Government will wear high hats, sashes and carry canes. They will turn out about 100 strong.

Four or five hundred men from the Old Dominion Iron and Nail Works will turn out, headed by a band of music and a unique float. They will wear badges and carry torches.

The employees of the Tredgar will not turn out as a body. The men will go with the respective clubs to which they belong.

The Ho Bo Club will turn out 200 strong.
They will be commanded by Mac Jones as chief marshal, assisted by the following aides: Merwin Branch, John Branch, Dick Cullen, George Burton.

The chief marshal requests that all organizations will assemble at 7 o'clock at the places designated for them in the line of formation, and report promptly to the marshals in charge.

The marshals are requested to call at his office to-day after 12 o'clock for full instructions and their badges of office.

Citizens who live along the line of parade are requested to illuminate their yards and residences.

The following will be the order of formation:

Railroad Company, Manchester Democratic clubs, Marshals the same as those of the Ninth division.

Colonel Hawes reports that all indications point to a very large turnout of mounted men, and has issued the following instructions to those who expect to take part on horseback.

The real estate mounted division will form on Twenty-fifth street south of Main street, right resting on Main. The Stuart Horse Guards Democratic Club will form to the left of the real estate division on south Twenty-fifth street.

All mounted men, unassigned, will form on Cary street at Twenty-second.
All other divisions will form in the order of their arrival on Cary street, beginning at Twenty-fifth street, all divisions forming on Cary street to the west as they arrive.

The heads of the mounted divisions and aids will report to Colonel G.
Percy Hawes at Twenty-fifth and Cary streets promptly at 7:15 P. M. All mounted men will march in double columns of fours (that is eight abreast), and will preserve an interval of two yards between the lines.

An interval of ten yards will be preserved between each organized mounted division. This order of march will be maintained throughout the parade unless otherwise directed by the chief of the mounted men.

All uniforms and transparencies belonging to the various mounted divisions will go in line with their respective divisions.

It is urged that all persons taking part mounted in the parade will arrive promptly at 7:15 P. M. at the designated points, as the chief marshal has declared his purpose to begin the parade promptly at 8 o'clock, and the mounted men must be ready to start at the head of the line.

The chiefs of the several mounted divisions are as follows:

Physicians, Dr. W. W. Parker.

Medical students, Dr. Charles Stegel.

Lawyers, Colonel Tazewell Elliott.

Stuart Horse Guard Democratic Club, Lieutenant J. R. Branch.

C. Atkinson, J. F. Bradley, Colonel John B. Purcell, M. M. Cretchfield, Richard H.
Gaines, Dr. A. Spiers George, Horace S. Jones, Captain E. D. Starke, Charles K. Williams, Thomas N. Carter, William T.
Moseley, J. D. Redwood, E. D. Hatch-kiss, J. W. Lockwood, Jr., Rosewell Shelburne, W. G. Harvey, Silas Shepburne, J. W. Pierce, H. A. Williams, E.
A. Catlin, C. A. Ross and Major Norman V. Randolph.

All mounted men will wear broad vol-low sashes from right shoulder to left hip, with small American flag on the hat.

Aids and heads of departments will wear light blue sashes and flags. The sashes and flags can be obtained at Marx Mitteldorfer's, on Seventh, near Broad.

The committee has contracted for them at 25 cents for each man.

The Southern Engraving and Stamp Company will have about twenty-five men in line with humorous transparencies. This house has aided no little in the late victory by the many campaign cuts which they have made.

Mr. J. P. George gives notice that mounted tobaccoists joining the Cleveland parade will meet promptly this evening at 6:45 on Shockoe Slip.

Every member of the Drummers' Club and invited guests are expected to report at headquarters, 123 Main street, at 6:30 this evening.

The real estate men are requested to meet this evening promptly at 7 o'clock, at Tenth and Main streets, from which point they will proceed in a body to Twenty-fifth and Cary streets. The helmets are now at the office of the marshal and ready for distribution.

The Fulton Democratic Club are ordered to meet at their hall at 7 P. M. this evening, where torches and badges will be furnished free to all who wish to participate.

The Powhatan Club will meet at its clubhouse this evening at 7:30 o'clock.
President Starke desires a full attendance, and the men wear dark clothes as far as possible. Badges, sashes and torches will be furnished. Red sashes, alpine hats and red canes will be the costumes.

The bankers and brokers who wish to join the torchlight procession tonight will please meet in front of the City Bank promptly at 7 o'clock. See Mr. J. R. Branch, chairman of the committee, and provide yourself with uniform."

Julius Meyer & Son will erect a mammoth stand, running along the entire front of their dry goods store, at the corner of Sixth and Broad streets, for the free use of their patrons. They will issue tickets to-day.

The insurance men will assemble at 7 P. M. in front of the office of the Virginia State Insurance Company. Their marshals will be N. V. Randolph, Julius Straus and A. Beine Blair.

The bricklayers, plasterers and builders who will participate, mounted, in the parade to-night are requested by W. J.
Reade, division marshals, to be present in assembling at the corner of Nineteenth and Cary streets, at 7:30.

The Walker Light Guard Club will parade about fifty strong. Their costumes will be Moirer Hubbards and poke bonnets.

The Mozart Academy Democratic Club will turn out to-night in full strength, a goodly number of its employees, headed by Manager Ed. Hamilton Cahill. Look out for them.

The several State officers held a meeting in the Senate chamber yesterday afternoon to complete their arrangements with reference to the turnout in the great parade this evening. Mr. A. L. Hall, of the second auditor's office, was elected chairman.

Mr. E. L. C. Scott, of the auditor's office, reported on behalf of the committee on uniforms that they had selected Cleveland hats and sashes, and recommended that each official should wear a torch. The report of the committee was adopted, and it was decided that each participant should pay his part of the expenses.

Messrs. C. Lee Moore and Joseph Burton were appointed a committee to wait upon the Governor in order to ascertain whether he intended to turn out with the State officials.

The committee soon returned and reported that the Governor had consented to ride in a carriage at the head of the State officials, and that he had also promised the officials the loan of one of the State flags.

After arranging for some of the details in connection with the turnout the meeting adjourned.

MANCHESTER BUREAU RICHMOND TIMES, }
1121 HULL STREET, BEATTIE BLOCK. }

Manchester is excited over the torchlight procession to-night. Everybody talks of it.

She will send with Chesterfield county's contribution 1,000 men.

Forming at the Leader office at 7 P. M. precisely the line of march will be via Hull street to Swanboro.

The Chesterfield men join them here, and they are invited, horse and foot, to assemble at Morrisette's store at 7 promptly.

Hull street from end to end; Swanboro to Mayo's bridge will be red with burning lights.

Many houses will be both illuminated and decorated.

A band of music will head the Manchester and Chesterfield people, and go to Richmond with them.

Some of the transparency designs are clever and amusing.

Plenty of torches, gentlemen, so if you can't get a horse and ride, do the next best thing, and march with a light in your hands.

With the weather fine, this will be the greatest outpouring of people ever seen in the cities of Richmond and Manchester.

The members of Manchester Court, Equitable League of America, will be glad and relieved to learn of the favorable termination for them of the suit brought against the order lately in Baltimore.

The Baltimore Sun of yesterday has the suit brought by Sweetser Lintcum, Jr., and J. Charles Lintcum for the purpose of having the affairs of the Equitable League of America wound up by a receiver was dismissed by Judge Dennis in the circuit court yesterday.

The judge said he did not care to hear any argument for the defense, and the case was decided on the testimony and argument of the complainants. The judge also said that the case was the weakest of any of the kind that had been brought before him, and that the evidence showed that the affairs of the order were properly and carefully managed and that the salaries paid the officers were reasonable. A decree was afterward signed dissolving the application for a receiver and an injunction, and ordering that the money deposited in bank pending the litigation be paid to the League. George R. Willis and Rhodes & Rhodes were counsel for the order."

Master Clarence Fahr, son of Councilman A. W. Fahr, is the proud owner of a medal received for saving a little boy from drowning. Young Fahr is a new-boy on a Chesapeake and Ohio train. At Clifton Forge several days since the son of Mr. Samuel Pulling fell into the river.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Fahr saved his life and received the profuse thanks of Mr. Pulling and the family. Later on Mr. Pulling ordered a gold medal, with appropriate inscription, and sent it to young Fahr.

Every Methodist church in Manchester has sent good reports to the conference at this meeting.

West End church did especially well, raising $2,000 for maintenance of the church.

Nearly the same amount was subscribed for addition to the church building.

Fifth-street has done very well. Central church's good showing was told of in the Times yesterday. There were nearly $4,000 raised by this congregation.
